

Australia's military alliance with USA has caused increasing and vast amounts of resources being directed to weapons and systems that are designed for aggressive warfare and not for appropriate national defence.

It has compromised our independence and has restricted severely our ability to act for peace.

The alliance has made Australia a collaborator in war crimes both through direct involvement in the invasion and devastation of Afghanistan and Iraq and through the use of the installations at Pine Gap for direction of drone strikes against civilian populations.